Question: On page 18 under Technical Capability section C Quality Control it is mentioned that offerors must address all elements in the PWS and Performance Requirements Summary. How do you envision offeror's responding? Are you asking that we go Section by Section in other words starting with C1 and ending with C4.13 demonstrating how we understand the requirements and how we will meet them etc. Or are you looking for more of a summary as indicated under Section A-demonstrating a complete understanding and knowledge of the requirements.

Answer: It is the offerors discretion to ensure that the method it chooses to respond includes those stated minimum areas of discussion, which in turn, will be evaluated in accordance with FAR 52.212-2 beginning on page 19 of 82. The offeror may elect to summarize together non-critical elements of the PWS but should ensure that all areas critical to performance, and the Performance Summary Requirements, are adequately and sufficiently addressed.
